

Online Safety Scenario Cards

One of my online friends has asked me to send a photo of myself so he knows what I look like.
What should I do?

Someone who I have been talking to online suggested that we should meet in person.
What should I do?

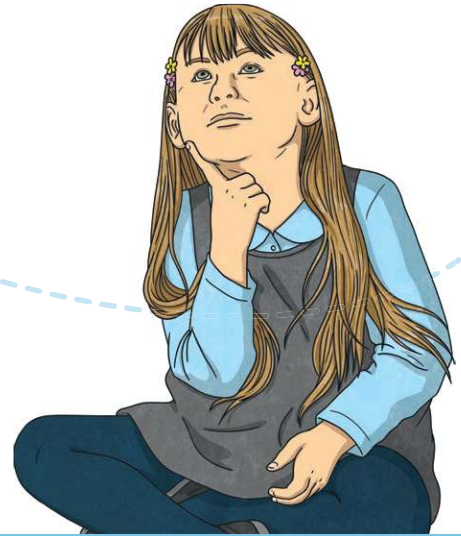

My friend has just told me that he has found a fake profile of me on an app we like to use. It is full of nasty comments and horrible pictures.

Online Safety Scenario Cards

My friends are constantly talking about a cool new website where you can talk to people and post pictures. They've all joined it and I'm thinking about signing up too as I feel left out.
What should I do?

My friend is always using a social media app. My mum says I'm not old enough to join. My friend showed me her account yesterday and she's written lots of posts with personal things on it and included pictures of us both.
What should I do?

I'm really worried about my friend. He seems to be obsessed with a game he plays online. He plays it all the time, even at night when he should be asleep. His parents don't know and he is always tired and grumpy.
